SOUTHERN PROTECTION INSURANCE COMPANY, ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA. CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS,

AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any No. 165 King-street, cor, of Wash. Company chartered in the State, by insuring VEGETABLE APERIENT SYRUP.—This preparation is a pleasant and gentle remedy years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount member, and giving a small premium note, the in-sured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the

CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policie against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become nembers of the Company, and over seventy thouand dollars have been paid for losses. Having nereased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company. T. B. Robertson, Dr. R. H. Stabler, Christopher Neale,

THE CLOUD ON THE WAY. BY WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

See before us, in our journey, broods a mist upon the ground, Thither leads the path we walk in, blending with that gloomy bound. Never eye hath pierced its shadows, to the mystery

Leaving banks that tempt us onward, bright with summer-green and flowers. Yet it blots the way forever; there our journey ends at last: Into that dark cloud we enter, and are gathered to

Unknown? Which shall leave the other walking in this flinty path alone? Even now I see thee shudder, and thy cheek is white with fear,

And thou clingest to my side, as that dark mist comes sweeping near. "Here," thou say'st, "the path is rugged, sown with that to wound the feet: But the sheltered glens are lovely, and the rivulet's song is sweet;

Roses breathe from tangled thickets, lilius bend from ledges brown; Pleasantly between the pelting showers, the sunshine gushes down. Far be yet the hour that takes me, where that chilly shadow lies, From the things I know and love, and from the

Ledger A RATHER CURIOUS SCENE occurred in the northern part of England during the performance in the menagerie. A young man who had for some time been carefully observing the monster elephant, determined to try the strength of the huge bulk of flesh with his own. There is at the end of the elephants tusks, which are of large size, an iron rod, binding one tusk to the other .-[portation | Our hero seized hold of this, and began to Italian Rye-Grass, Sweet Scented Vernal Grass | lean his whole weight upon it. The elephant not altogether liking this sort of treatment, determined for his part to punish his audacious antagonist. He raised his great head aloft, and the young fellow was swung from the ground until he almost touched the canvess covering, and was, no doubt, much higher than his most wild ambition ever carried him. The animal repeated this, and a second time he descended to the ground, when the elephat perhaps, thinking it best to temper justice with mercy, wrapped his trunk round the hapless and now thoroughly humbled youth, and very unceremoni-
